Puppy's Peril – Pet Owner Seeks Help

The owner of this 7-week old Mixed-Breed Pitbull-Boxer-Sharpei puppy came to the Municipal Animal Shelter seeking help for medical care. It was originally believed that the puppy had an infection on her leg. A veterinarian exam and x-rays revealed a broken leg. AVAS staff provided contact information for several local rescues as possible sources for re-homing and medical care assistance. The puppy was turned over to the shelter on Dec. 12.

Placing shelter animals into permanent loving homes is a priority for Apple Valley Animal Services (AVAS). There are times when an animal requires behavior modification, non-routine medical care, or additional time to become adoptable. AVAS partners with Animal Rescue Organizations willing to accept animals with special needs or needing more time to be placed with a family. On December 12, 2013, staff contacted Sheila Choi, the Founder and CEO of The Fuzzy Pet Foundation, who committed to take on June's medical care. June was transported to Cerritos on December 17th.

The Fuzzy Pet Foundation – (TFPF) is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization based in Southern California, committed to saving lives, ending animal overpopulation via spay and neuter efforts, promoting compassion, and advocating for responsible pet ownership. TFPF relies solely on the support and contributions of individuals who care about animals. Individuals wanting to help with June's surgery costs, recovery, and foster care until placement may contact: info@tfpf.org
