

TOWN OF APPLE VALLEY, CALIFORNIA

AGENDA MATTER

Subject Item:

NOMINEES TO THE TOWN OF APPLE VALLEY DEVELOPMENT CODE ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Summary Statement:

As part of the comprehensive General Plan Update, it is necessary to update the Development Code in order to maintain consistency between both documents. On December 9, 2008, the Town Council adopted a Resolution creating a Development Code Advisory Committee. The appropriate time for the Council to appoint the members of the DCAC would be upon adoption of the General Plan by the Council. This would allow each prospective DCAC member to consider the appointment and understand the time-line. It is anticipated that the review of the DCAC will take approximately six (6) evening meetings. This would take approximately five (5) to six (6) months.

The committee should include five (5) members of the previously appointed GPAC and two (2) members of the Planning Commission. The DCAC would be an advisory committee of the Planning Commission, similar to the role of the GPAC. The DCAC would recommend changes in the Development Code to the entire Planning Commission for review and approval. The Planning Commission would then make a recommendation to the Council that would be considered for adoption.

It is the responsibility of each Council Member to nominate one Committee Member to serve on the Development Code Advisory Committee and two Planning Commissioners to be selected at-large. Appointees will serve at the pleasure of the nominating Council person.
