

TOWN OF APPLE VALLEY, CALIFORNIA

AGENDA MATTER

Subject Item:

REVISED COMMUNITY CHOICE AGGREGATION FEASIBILITY STUDY REQUEST

Summary:

At its September 14, 2010 meeting, the Town Council approved an agreement with Navigant Consulting for the purpose of conducting a Community Choice Aggregation (CCA) feasibility study within the Town for an amount not to exceed $30,000. If deemed feasible, the establishment of a CCA has the potential of lowering the electrical rates for customers within the CCA area, plus generating future revenue for the Town. Prior to the start of the study, two of the lead consultants, Mr. John Dalessi and Mr. Kirby Dusel left Navigant Consulting to form their own consulting groups. It is staff's opinion that the loss of Mr. Dalessi and Mr. Dusel from Navigant Consulting removes the primary experts from the performance of the feasibility study. Mr. Dalessi, in particular was the primary consultant at Navigant Consulting overseeing the preparation of the California Energy Commission authorized Public Interest Energy Research (PIER) report which examined twelve (12) cities as part of the pilot project completed in 2009. Subsequently, Mr. Dalessi has formed Dalessi Management Consulting LLC and serves as the primary consultant for Marin County's CCA, which is the first and most recently formed CCA in the State. Dalessi Management Consulting LLC, is offering its services (the same services as proposed by Navigant Consulting) to prepare the feasibility study for $20,000, which results in a significant cost savings of $10,000.

If the feasibility study is positive and a CCA is implemented, it may result in substantial savings to the residents of our community as well as serve as an economic development incentive tool. The previous Council report surmised that by creating a CCA, the Town will be in the unique position of being able to shop for the most competitive electricity rates, and be able to choose our own electrical service provider. In addition, the previous report indicated that the study would not examine the generation or transmission of electricity since the Town does not intend to generate or transmit electricity. Generation and transmission of power requires substantial start-up costs and maintenance. Instead, a potential Apple Valley CCA will allow for cost savings for residents and employers without the expense of costly equipment, service personnel or billing. Those responsibilities would remain the obligation of Southern California Edison.

Page 2

Staff proposes that the Town contract with Dalessi Management Consulting, LLC, to determine the feasibility of establishing a CCA by the Town. Dalessi Management Consulting, LLC, was formed with the mission of providing strategic advice and technical support to organizations active in the California energy market. DMC's founding member, John Dalessi, has held senior leadership positions in the wholesale, retail and regulated sectors of the electric utility industry over a career spanning twenty years. DMC advises public agencies, generation project developers, and private investors on large, multi-million dollar infrastructure projects and energy programs.

The Scope of Services that will be undertaken by Dalessi Management Consulting, LLC, in performing an analysis of the Town of Apple Valley forming a Community Choice Aggregation program is outlined in Exhibit "A" of the Agreement. The proposed staffing and relevant staffing experience is outlined in Exhibit "D". The feasibility study will be completed within four weeks of the execution of the Agreement.

In summary, the Town has the opportunity to retain the expertise of John Dalessi through Dalessi Management Consulting, LLC, for a significant cost saving of $10,000 or 33% of the original contract. The scope of services and timeframe for performance remains the same. Therefore, staff recommends adoption of the form motion.

COMPANY PROFILE AND STAFFING

Dalessi Management Consulting LLC was formed in October, 2010 with the mission of providing strategic advice and technical support to organizations active in the California energy market. DMC’s founding member, John Dalessi, has held senior leadership positions in the wholesale, retail and regulated sectors of the electric utility industry over a career spanning twenty years. This deep industry background enables DMC to bring comprehensive solutions to each client engagement, drawing from a broad perspective and informed by real world experience.

DMC advises public agencies, generation project developers, and private investors on large, multi-million dollar infrastructure projects and energy programs. Mr. Dalessi has successfully structured a number of new energy enterprises taking advantage of opportunities available in the energy markets with a particular emphasis on renewable energy technologies. Projects have ranged from the formation of the first municipal load aggregation program in California history, to project management support for new generation facility development, to negotiation of transmission contracts, interconnection agreements, power purchase agreements, and financial transactions.

Mr. Dalessi’s expertise includes electricity market operations, industry restructuring, regulatory and legislative analysis, cost of service and economic analyses, rate design, load forecasting, demand response, and strategic planning. Mr. Dalessi has been involved in major industry initiatives during the past twenty years, beginning with assisting Southern California Edison Company in preparing for industry restructuring during the late 1990’s and later negotiating direct access contracts for Fortune 500 companies at a major Energy Services Provider. During the California Energy Crisis of 2000 to 2001, Mr. Dalessi spearheaded development of the largest demand response program in the Country to help the State reduce peak electricity demand and avoid rolling blackouts.

Since 2003, Mr. Dalessi has been at the leading edge of the movement towards community-based energy development, having led the statewide Community Choice Aggregation Demonstration Project in which twelve local government entities (cities and counties) assessed the feasibility of forming CCA Programs. Mr. Dalessi was the “architect” and lead technical consultant for the first successful CCA program in California, known as Marin Clean Energy, which currently serves nearly 10,000 electric customers in Marin County, and DMC continues to provide key technical consulting services to this program

Mr. Dalessi holds a Masters of Arts degree in Economics from the University of California at Santa Barbara and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics from the California State University at Long Beach. Prior to forming DMC, Mr. Dalessi held senior management positions at Navigant Consulting, APX, PG&E Energy Services, and Southern California Edison Company.
